

EDUCATIONAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGISTS

APS

College of Educational and Developmental
Psychologists

Learn Well. Live Well.

Learning

Optimising learning, assessing learning difficulties, challenging behaviour, problems with transition and school avoidance

Early Childhood

Assessment, diagnosis and intervention to support development, behaviour, communication and social challenges

Schooling

Social skills, peer relationships, school-wide prevention, behaviour, mental health and wellbeing prevention programs

Adolescence

Parental conflict, peer pressure, identity and sexuality, career guidance, technology use and self esteem

Educational and Developmental Psychologists are concerned with optimising the learning, development and wellbeing of individuals across the lifespan. They receive specialised training in the identification, assessment, diagnosis and treatment of mental health, developmental disability, behaviour and learning issues affecting critical periods of development.

Mental Health

Identification and treatment of all mental health concerns across the lifespan. Examples include depression, anxiety, sexual assault and trauma

Life Transitions

Mid-life concerns, relationship concerns, work stress, education and training in the workplace

Adulthood

Career restructuring, parenting issues, drug and alcohol problems, childhood trauma and family relationships

Older Age

Healthy, positive ageing, coping with cognitive decline, grief, dependency and end of life transitions

